Shoreline observations

A visual survey of the lake and its timber jetty.

Fig. 1 The boathouse at the edge of the forest.

Site description

A timber boathouse stands on posts above the lake. A narrow jetty follows its outer wall. Beyond the roof, the dark pines give way to a pale ridge across the water.

Observation The posts and their reflections mark the waterline.

Material and reflection

In the sheltered water, small ripples break up the reflection. The jetty and roofline give a fixed reference for the view.
